1 Introduction

This document provides a draft code chart and a few specimens of the Pungchen script. A formal proposal is forthcoming. Very little information is available on Pungchen. The material presented here is drawn from blogs on Zhang Zhung scripts published by Andrew West:

2 Background

The ལྷུངས་ཆེན་ sPungs-chen or ‘Greater sPungs script’ is associated with the Bön religious tradition and was used for writing texts in the Zhang Zhung language. A closely related script is the ལྷུངས་ཆུང་ sPungs-chung or ‘Lesser sPungs script’ (document forthcoming). Both of these scripts are alphasyllabic and have structures similar to Lantsha / Ranjana. Character glyphs resemble those of Lantsha, and the repertoire and order align with Tibetan. Specimens of the script are provided in the following scholarly works:

- Chaphur Namkha Gyaltzen. 1994. ཡིག་གཟུགས་དུ་མའི་མ་བྱི་གཞོན་ནུ་མངོས་པའི་ལང་ཚོ [Yig gzugs du ma'i ma phyi gzhon nu mdzes pa'i lang tsho], pp. 3–5. Mutri Tsedpo ZhangBod Research Institute (Bon Monastery, Ochghat).
- Lokesh Chandra. 1982. Indian scripts in Tibet. Reproduced by Lokesh Chandra from the collection of Prof. Raghuvira, pp. 59–60. New Delhi: Sharada Rani.

The sPungs-chen script will be referred to tentatively as ‘Pungchen’. This normalization follows the convention used for naming the ‘Marchen’ block (U+11C70..11CBF), which contains characters of another Zhang Zhung script called ལྷུངས་ཆེན་ sMar-chen.
